Union Mine Site Council

we need your help!

Our school would not be the same without the generosity and active support of our parent and community organizations. I invite you to take a leadership role and make a difference! I encourage you to be involved in our school by working with your student(s) at home – encouraging academic excellence and responsibility – and taking part in volunteer groups such as Booster Clubs, School Site Council and Advisory Committees. The facility at Union Mine truly values your opinion and strives to provide your student with a rewarding high school experience.

What is School Site Council?

- The school site council is a group of teachers, parents, classified employees, and students (at the high school level) that works with the principal to develop, review and evaluate school improvement programs and school budgets.
- Site councils generally make decisions or advise the principal on the school budget and the academic or school improvement plan. In addition to academic planning, many site councils are also responsible for making decisions about parent engagement, safety and discipline.
- Over the course of a year, a typical council might consider the goals of the school or district and then work with the principal to evaluate the school's progress toward those goals. In this evaluation, the council might consider school test scores, attendance and discipline records, parent surveys and input from students.
- After looking at the big picture of the school's progress, the council and the principal create a plan for improvement. This plan might involve a new academic program, staff member or parent outreach strategy. For example, site council might use funds to develop a new math program, hire a reading specialist or hire an additional teacher to reduce class sizes in a particular grade. Because school budgets are limited and many funds can only be spent in certain ways, there are always tough decisions to make.
